Personally Volunteered Information

We only collect personal information from our visitors on a voluntary basis. Personal information may include name, address, e-mail, etc. The personal information you volunteer to us is used to fulfill your request for more information or to respond to your question or comment. These responses come directly from us; no third parties have access to your personal information collected by the Arizona Department of Juvenile Corrections (ADJC).

Other Personal Information

Our web server collects the domain names (not the e-mail addresses) of visitors to our website. This information is collected to measure basic usage data such as the number of visits, average time spent on the site, pages reviewed, etc. which is used by ADJC Staff to improve the content and performance of our website.

Cookies

Cookies are not used anywhere on ADJC's Website. You are always able to alter any personal information that you have already submitted.

Children

ADJC's Website has no intention of collecting any personal information from individuals under eighteen years of age. Where appropriate, ADJC's Website will specifically instruct children not to submit such information on our website. If a child has provided us with information, a parent or guardian of that child should contact us if they would like this information deleted from our records. We will use reasonable efforts to delete the child's information from our existing files.

Other

The information you provide to us is not sold or shared in any way to third party data compilation services. If you do not want to provide this information, you are given the opportunity to decline.

Security

ADJC's Website takes reasonable measures to keep all information about our online visitors secure against unauthorized access and periodically reviews the security measures of our site.
